

Comparison Software

Measurements of a profile made at various times are compared and the changes on the measurements are analyzed.

In this way, the changes in the mold can be easily observed.